Lost LED Floor Lamp by Magis

Designed by studio BrogliatoTraverso, the Lost floor lamp embodies the ethos of Alberto Brogliato and Federico Traverso, the two designers that founded the company in 2014. Working with their "no time, no space" design approach, the designers strive to create products that can exist in any space or time by using essential ideas and forms.

The Lost floor light strips away the complicated lampshade, featuring a simple round shade that has an innovative LED light source on the outside of the structure. The middle void of the shade becomes the focal point, framing your setting and creating a minimalist aesthetic. The floor lamp can be cleverly dimmed by placing your hand in the middle of the lampshade and the classic black finish means it can slip into any design scheme. Available in a small or large size.
