Mater Terra Wall Light

OEO Studio have collaborated with Mater to create the Terra Wall Light, launched as a UK exclusive to David Village Lighting. Both OEO and Mater have a passion for sustainability, and they have used this opportunity to work with materials such as Matek™, a recycled material made from consumer e-waste and coffee shell waste. As well as being ecologically friendly, Matek™ is a durable product that allows for seamless integration of joints and technical elements in the lamps. This results in a design that is minimal, precise, and timeless. As well as the wall light, the Terra Collection includes a pendant and a portable table lamp.

The Terra Wall Light comes with the option of a hardwired or cable & plug variant, depending on personal preference. The solid shade creates a direct downward light, perfect for installing at a bedside as a reading light, or over a desk in an office as a task light. The Terra Wall Light has a versatile design. The uncluttered profile and seamless integration of joints gives the lamp a contemporary look, suitable for modern interiors. Conversely, the muted, earthy tones of the lamp convey a more antique, rustic feel that would look at home in a classic interior furnished with vintage décor.
