NORR11 Gallery Pendant

The NORR11 Gallery Pendant is a refined yet sculptural lighting piece that brings a museum-inspired ambience to contemporary interiors. Designed with a focus on material contrast and architectural expression, this pendant is crafted from ultra-thin travertine plates, giving it an origami-like appearance. The structured form is reinforced by a hidden metal plate, allowing the travertine to appear lightweight and elegant despite its natural density.

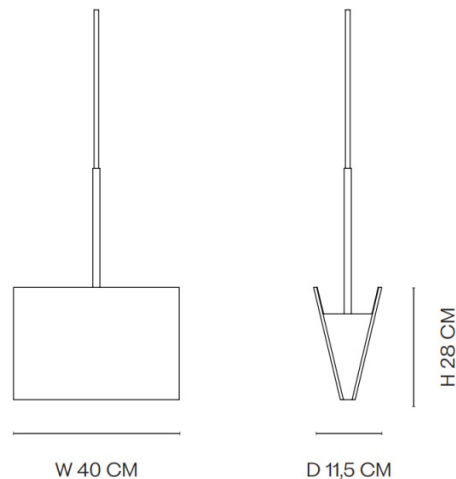

Emitting a soft, indirect glow, the Gallery Pendant directs light upwards to enhance the surrounding space, while a narrow opening at the base provides gentle downward illumination. This dual lighting effect creates a balanced ambience, making it perfect for both residential and commercial settings. Whether installed as a standalone feature or arranged in clusters at varying heights, it offers a sculptural aesthetic that complements a variety of interior styles.

Ideal for dining areas, lounges, and curated retail spaces, the Gallery Pendant embodies timeless elegance with a contemporary edge. The use of natural travertine ensures a unique finish, with each lamp featuring subtle variations in texture and tone.
