Tala Heath Table Lamp

The Tala Heath Table Lamp takes inspiration from the Victorian chimney pots that shape London's skyline, reimagined as a sculptural table light with a grounded, architectural presence. Made with Portuguese earthenware and finished in a high-gloss Port Red glaze, the curved ceramic base has a quiet weight to it, with a reflective surface that adds depth when the lamp is switched on and a sense of richness when it is not.

A natural cotton shade softens the overall feeling of the lamp and helps diffuse the light for a relaxed glow that suits bedside tables, sideboards and reading corners. Heath is offered a choice of temperature options, 2700K or a warmer 2200K, allowing you to choose an ambience to suit the placement.

Please Note, this product is also available in a Dim-to-Warm 2000-3000K variant. Contact us for more details and pricing.
