Marset Cala Floor Lamp is a plug-in floor lamp by Joan Gaspar, made with a varnished oak structure and a Pearl White shade in polyester PET and Textilene. The design is based around a wide shade and a crossed wooden frame, giving the lamp a clear silhouette without making the structure feel heavy. The oak version has a warmer appearance than the Cala Metal Floor Lamp, while keeping the same simple proportions.

The shade is designed to surround the light without enclosing it completely, allowing the lamp to give a warm, diffused output into the room. Its size makes it suitable for larger living spaces, where a floor lamp needs to feel more substantial than a small reading light. It works well beside a sofa, lounge chair, low table, or in a quiet corner where soft general lighting is needed.

Cala Floor Lamp is supplied with a black cable and an in-line on/off switch. It is available in an Oak / Pearl White finish and requires three E27 LED Standard lamps, ordered separately. Most suited to living rooms, lounges, bedrooms, reading corners, hotel rooms, receptions, and interiors where a large floor lamp can provide warm, shaded light with a natural wood structure.
