&Tradition Bella Chandelier

The &Tradition Bella Chandelier, designed by Space Copenhagen in 2026, is based on the outline of a four-leaf clover. Its four upright sections sit around a central bronzed pole, with curved canvas shades bringing a softer shape to the overall design.

The soft canvas shades use rPET textile with a white backing and are fitted to a CNC-cut, painted aluminium frame. Bella is available in two sizes, both in the Bronzed & Soft Canvas finish, allowing the same design to work in rooms with different proportions. The smaller SC114 has a broader, more compact profile, while the taller SC115 gives the chandelier a stronger vertical presence.

Suspended from a textile cable, Bella is intended for indoor use and works well where its shape can be viewed from several angles. The combination of warm-looking canvas, curved shades, and bronzed detailing makes it particularly suited to dining areas, living spaces, entrance halls, and larger bedrooms, as well as hospitality interiors where a decorative ceiling light is required.
