Flos Quarto Small Wall Light

Flos Quarto Small Wall Light was released in 2026, more than fifty years after Tobia Scarpa designed the original Quarto in 1973. The design is based on a quarter sphere, with a pressed metal shade and a ribbed polycarbonate diffuser covering the bulb. The shade can be rotated to alter where the light falls, giving you some control over how the surrounding wall is illuminated.

Quarto Small works well in hallways, bedrooms and living rooms, particularly where wall space is limited. It can be installed beside a bed, above a sideboard or along a corridor to provide additional lighting without taking up much room. Its curved metal shade is also a prominent part of the design, even when the light is switched off.

The wall light is available in White, Black, Bronze, Chrome, and Gold. The painted finishes give the curved reflector a more uniform appearance, while Chrome and Gold bring out the reflective qualities of the metal. Quarto Small uses a replaceable LED bulb, which is purchased separately, and can be dimmed with a compatible external dimmer.
