KDLN Minimal LED Suspension Light

The Minimal suspension light was designed by David Pompa, a Mexican and Austrian designer who designs from his studio based in the heart of Mexico City. The studio is on a constant journey to discover new aspects of craftsmanship and materiality, this is clear within the design of the Minimal suspension. This simplistic and elegant design is characterised by the materials and techniques used in its manufacturing. The material used for this KDLN lamp is Barro Negro, an ancient pottery method produced in San Bartolo Coyotepec in the state of Oaxaca, where pottery is passed from generation to generation and has always been a tradition. Barro Negro, meaning black clay, is hardy, long-lasting, and elegant. Evidence of this material can be found at archeological sites and, up to this time, it is being shaped in the same way the ancient Zapotec used to do.

With its stunning sheen and sleek black finish, the Minimal pendant uses the clay's imperfections to its advantage. Its handmade aesthetic works well in more natural or industrial interiors that value the history and craftsmanship that forms these shades. With the driver and canopy included, this lamp is also available with a copper or black nickel detailing that adds a modern touch to the design. Ideal for kitchen worktops or hallway lighting, the Minimal is a stunning addition to any home or workspace.
