Luceplan Lita Stemmed Table Lamp

Designed by David Dolcini the Lita Stemmed Table Lamp is an evolution of the Lita Table. Whilst still harbouring a timeless design and making the most of natural materials, this table lamp creates more of a statement in your space. The diffuser sits atop an elevated structure, standing tall on your bedside table, coffee table or your kitchen countertop.

The glass diffuser boasts subtle vertical ridges, which add an artistic touch and optimise the entire design. Your choice of finish can also personalise the style of the lamp drastically. With an ash wood finish the table lamp produces an organic element for your room perfect for more minimalistic décor styles, whereas the painted white adds a modern touch and is a great addition for contemporary spaces.

Whether it is used as a light on your bedside table, a reading light next to your sofa or as accent lighting on your coffee table, Lita creates a very cosy atmosphere with a beautiful frame that combines tradition with technical research.
