Michael Anastassiades Triple Angle Pendant

The Michael Anastassiades Triple Angle Pendant is a testament to modernist design, featuring three luminous opaline glass spheres artfully arranged within a satin brass or nickel-plated frame. Inspired by the elegance of fishing hooks, the pendant combines sculptural form with practical functionality. Each sphere is crafted from mouth-blown glass, emitting a soft, ambient light that creates a warm and inviting atmosphere.

The Triple Angle Pendant's rod suspension allows for a customisable drop length, ensuring adaptability to any residential or commercial space. The unlacquered finish enhances the natural beauty of the materials, developing a unique patina over time. This pendant embodies Anastassiades' dedication to timeless design and artisanal craftsmanship, making it a standout addition to any interior.
