Ferm Living Braided Bottle Pendant

The Bottle Pendant is made from rattan, a climbing reed that is popular in furniture design. Rattan is often used due to its durability, flexibility, and beauty. Each Bottle Pendant is expertly hand-braided, creating organic curves that complement the shade's natural material. As each shade is made by hand, there may be small variations in colour and shape from piece to piece.

The Bottle Pendant partially encloses the light source within, while the weaves allow pockets of light to escape. This creates a captivating display of light and shadow that surrounds the shade. The bottom of the shade is open and creates a downward directional light that is ideal for illuminating surfaces such as a dining table or kitchen island. The natural aesthetic and ambient lighting from the Bottle Pendant add a comforting aesthetic to any room.

The Bottle Pendant lamp is also available to purchase without a suspension kit or with a 400cm cable kit. Please contact us for prices and more information.
