Sammode Studio Pierre Guariche G25 Wall Light

The G25 wall light, designed by Pierre Guariche in 1951, was originally designed for use over a dining table, but it works equally as well in modern applications such as a bedside light or in a hallway. The G25 wall lamp offers quality diffused light, making it perfect for creating a cosy and comfortable atmosphere.

Sammode Studio has kept the prestigious design true to its original form, but incorporated modern technology and with a choice of a black and white version or a monochrome variant (upon request), the G25 wall lamp will surely make an impact in any home. The proportions of the G25 makes it an easy addition to interior design and its brushed and lacquered brass rod is adjustable for length.

The G25 is also available as a suspension – please contact us directly for prices and specification.
