Zero Haze Pendant Light

The Zero Haze Pendant Light, designed by Samuel Wilkinson in 2020, takes inspiration from traditional lanterns, reinterpreting their soft, diffused glow with a modern and tactile design. The pendant's outer shade is crafted from 3D woven polyester fabric—a material that enhances its textural depth while also ensuring environmental sustainability, thanks to its waste-free manufacturing process. Inside, an opal acrylic diffuser softens the light output, eliminating glare and creating a warm, inviting atmosphere.

The Haze pendant is encased by natural ash wooden rings, bringing a touch of organic elegance to its minimalist form. Available in three colours, white, black, and petroleum, this pendant light is designed to suit a variety of interiors, from contemporary lofts to hospitality settings. It comes with dimmable options, allowing users to adjust brightness levels to suit different moods and functions. Whether installed individually over a dining table or in clusters for a striking statement, the Haze pendant light offers sophisticated, modern illumination with a nod to traditional craftsmanship.
