Flos Last Order LED Portable Lamp

The Last Order Portable Lamp was designed by Michael Anastassiades, exclusively for Flos. The portable table lamp has a simple glass base with a fluted design, reminiscent of the ancient column, which is an architectural design staple. Topped off by a metal shade which is available in 4 colours, matt green, polished brass, satin copper and polished stainless steel, the Flos Last Order can adapt to a range of environments. This elegant lighting solution utilises an integrated LED light source, which is long-lasting and energy-efficient, and is projected down onto the table below for an intimate pocket of light.

The Flos Last Order Portable Lamp can be charged with the included charger, so you can carry the light around and use it wherever it is most needed. The LED illumination provides a beautiful and warming ambience for any interior, and there is also an integrated dimmer switch which operates on a 3-step system, allowing you to generate the exact atmosphere you want.

Please Note: The matt green and polished stainless steel finishes are suitable for outdoor use, so you can light up your exterior as the evening sky draws in.
