Marset Dipping Light Portable LED Table Lamp

Marset Dipping Light Portable LED Table Lamp is a rechargeable version of Jordi Canudas' Dipping Light, with a glossy blown glass globe and layered painted finish. The painted glass filters the light through rings of colour, giving the lamp the same shaded effect as the wired versions. Its small metal body and Brushed Brass finish make it easy to place on surfaces where a cable would be in the way.

The portable format makes the lamp useful around the home, rather than tied to one table or socket. It can sit on a bedside table, shelf, sideboard, or dining table, then be moved elsewhere when needed. White, Green, and Amber feel brighter and more colourful, while Burgundy, Chocolate, and Cream are calmer options for softer schemes.

The switch and three-position dimmer are built into the body. The battery lasts up to 5 hours at full power, 10 hours at half power, and 20 hours at the lowest setting, with a charging cable included and a power adapter excluded. Most suited to bedside tables, shelves, sideboards, dining tables, living rooms, bedrooms, restaurants, hotels, and spaces where a small portable lamp can bring warm light to different areas.
